

Introduction:

1. What is your question?

2. What led to your question? What was the link you made that led to your question? Two or three sentences should suffice.

3. Why is your question important to answer? What is the relevance?

4. What is already known about this topic? What is the evidence that supports the link that led to your question?

5. What do you think is the answer to your question? This is your hypothesis.

6. How are you going to answer the question? This should be brief.
